
Healthy Cross Cultural Teams Pre K-12

A No-Cost Summer Workshop for Educators in Multnomah & Clackamas Counties

Credit Opportunity!

Educators need systematic ways to engage each other on how culture and race shape all aspects of their work—from curriculum and instruction to assessment, feedback, family and community relationships, and cross-cultural collaboration with colleagues.

This multi-day, credit-optional workshop for school-based Pre K-12 educators will help individuals and teams examine their positionality and racial socialization through critical reflection. Participants will explore how racial identity development and cultural literacy strengthen relationships with colleagues, students, and communities, and build skills for disrupting inequitable systems through cross-cultural solidarity.

Dates & Schedule

Dates: June 22 - 25, 2027

Time: 8:30 a.m. - 3:30 p.m.

Location: Clackamas Education Service District

Register Online:

Scan or Click Here to Register

Graduate Level Credit Option:

Participants who work within Multnomah and Clackamas county are eligible to receive 3 hours of graduate level credit through Portland State University or 2 graduate level credits through Lewis and Clark Graduate School at no cost.

Contact:

If you'd like to know more about the content, structure, and facilitation, please contact Kelsey Bowers at kbowers@clackesd.k12.or.us

About the Instructors:

Elizabeth Denevi

Elizabeth Denevi, PhD, is an assistant clinical professor in the Leadership Studies program at Lewis & Clark Graduate School of Education and Counseling.

Jasmine Locke

Jasmine Locke, EdD, is an equity-centered educational leader consultant, former teacher of the Beaverton School District and racial affinity coordinator for students, staff, and community members.

Lewis & Clark Graduate School of Education and Counseling

multnomah clackamas regional educator network

Portland State University